who we are

The Fellowship Committee oversees the many opportunities at Saint Peter to get together and share a meal. This means we oversee our commercial kitchen (aka “God’s Galley”) and ensure everything is in proper working order. We’re most visible on Sunday mornings when we partner with various other groups in the church to host a fellowship hour between services, but we also provide luncheons for weddings and funerals, and consider it our great honor to be involved in these important occasions. When there’s a special event or holiday on the horizon, we plan for meals to celebrate them. And then there’s Wonderful Wednesday soup suppers. All of it brought to you with love and care from the Fellowship team.

The background features a light grey base with large, overlapping organic shapes in muted green and brown. Stylized foliage patterns, resembling ferns or pine needles, are scattered across the top and left sides. A thin white line curves across the bottom right.

what we do

what we do

When there's a meal to be served, it takes planning. We provide the oversight to be sure God's Galley is in prime working order and compliant with all food safety regulations. When it comes to luncheons, buffets, and suppers, we create the menu, shop for the food, cook it up, and serve it on tables decorated for the occasion. This means we also have a team that handles floral arrangements and table linens. We keep both plastic and porcelain tableware in stock, as well as storage containers so all the leftovers can be sent home to those who need or want more food. Because, yes, we are all about great food.
